

How JACC Works

JACC participants work together with a care manager to develop a plan of care to best meet their needs. The care manager works with the participant to ensure that services are delivered as planned.

Based on the results of a clinical assessment, the plan of care is developed collaboratively by the participant and their care manager. All JACC participants receive care management services.

The participant and the JACC care manager talk monthly. Any changes to the plan of care can be made at that time. The care manager visits the participant quarterly in their home.

By providing a uniquely designed package of supports for the individual, JACC delays or prevents placement in a nursing home.

About JACC

Jersey Assistance for Community Caregiving is a program that provides in-home services to seniors at risk of placement in a nursing home. JACC includes an array of services designed to supplement the assistance given by the individual's caregiver network. There are a number of service options available to meet the participant's care needs.

By designing service plans uniquely tailored to the individual, JACC works to enhance the individual's community care options. JACC also strengthens the ability of caregivers to continue in their vital role as primary support providers.
